TERRIBLE TORNADO.

KANSAS CITY, April 18.—At 3.30 p. m. to-day one of the most disastrous cyclones that has ever occurred in the State started at Saline county, Mo.

Particulars are hard to obtain on account of the wires being down. The direction of the cyclone was southwest. Brownsville, it is now reported, fared the worst. The storm struck the business portion of the town, and blew down everything in its track. Eleven persons are reported to have been killed, and a number seriously injured. The names of two of the killed are J. Miller and Perry Wilson. The telegraph operator is among the killed. J. J. Wilson, father of the latter, was badly hurt. The cyclone, within three miles of Marshall Mound, destroyed a number of farm houses. No estimate can be made of the loss of property.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—The first intimation the residents of Brownsville had of the storm was a black cloud that appeared about two miles distant in a southwesterly direction. It came rapidly upon them with its terrible noise, and passed through the place from a southwest to a northeast direction.

Its path was 200 yards wide, and not over two minutes were occupied in going through the town.

Thirty-five people are reported as injured. About twenty business houses of brick and frame were destroyed, and as many dwellings.

The hotel was blown down, as was also the Missouri Pacific depot. All the telegraph wires, except that of the railroad, were blown down.

Stock was killed, being crushed against the buildings. The storm, after leaving Brownsville, was next heard of near Marshall, but the damage done is not reported.

The Greatest Blessing.
A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

OBITUARY.

DETROIT, Mich., April 18.—Cadet Chase J. Dickey, of Racine, Wis., died at the Michigan Military academy at Orchard Lake, this morning, of inflammatory rheumatism. He had but recently recovered from scarlet fever. His remains will be taken to Racine for interment.

It Is Worth Remembering that nobody enjoys the nicest surroundings if he has health. There are miserable people about to-day with one foot in the grave, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the doctors and medicines they have ever tried. See adv.

CANNON'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The House, by a vote of 127 to 100, decided to take up the Utah case. The Democrats, in nearly all cases, voted against the taking up of the case, having conceived a sudden affection for tariff discussion. Cannon, the polygamist, was on the floor, having that right by reason of non-membership. The motions are that both contestants will be rejected, and the case sent back to the people.

Evils to be Avoided.

Over-eating is in one sense as productive of evil as intemperance in drinking. Avoid both, and keep the blood purified with BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, and you will be rewarded with robust health and an invigorated system. Price, $1.00; trial size, 10 cents.

MADISON.

MADISON, April 17.—To-day at noon the new administration took charge of the city affairs here. Mayor Conklin addressed the Common Council at length reviewing the condition of city affairs. The total receipts of the City Government for the year ending April 10 were $90,359; total expenses of the year, $84,706; balance now in the treasury, $56,024. The Council elected John Corcoran as Clerk; John L. Lewis as chief of police; Andrew Bishop, superintendent of streets; R. M. Bashford, city attorney. The common council to-day accepted the bid of Preston, Kean & Co., of Chicago, to take the city's water-works bonds to the amount of $76,000. The bid was 101 1/4 for bonds maturing in ten years, 101 1/2 for fifteen years, 101 3/4 for twenty years, the bonds to be issued any time, on or before July 1, interest payable semi-annually in New York.

SILK CULTURE.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 18.—The second annual meeting of the Women's Silk-Culture Association of the United States was held to-day. Twenty-five yards of broad satin intended to be presented to Mrs. Garfield for a dress was exhibited, and it was stated it took fifty pounds of cocoons, making fourteen pounds of real silk, to make the dress pattern. Some silk was also exhibited, made from cocoons in which the silkworms had been fed upon the orange worm. This experiment was a pronounced success, as three pounds of orange cocoons make one pound of real silk. The annual report stated that silk had been raised in this country equal, if not superior, to the best Italian product, and that the extent of the American silk-culture was shown by the contributions to the dress of Mrs. Garfield, representing as they do, fourteen States.

No Matter What Happens.
You may rest assured that you are safe in being speedily cured by THOMAS' EUCALYPTIC OIL in all cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, etc. One trial only is necessary to prove its efficacy. Sold by A. J. Roberts and F. Sherer & Co.

CINCINNATI FESTIVAL.

CINCINNATI, April 18.—The auction sale to-day of music festival tickets was dull. During the two days' auction 359 purchasers have taken 1,069 tickets, paying $3,504 premium, making the total realized for tickets and premiums at the close to-night $16,338. This is slow in comparison with the sales at previous festivals, but the sale this year commences early. The auction will be discontinued, and tickets will hereafter be sold at stores for $12 the season. There are 4,428 seats, and 13,359 remain yet to be sold.

FORD BROTHERS.

JEREESEON CITY, April 17.—The Governor this afternoon, upon receipt of the news from St. Joseph that the Ford boys had been indicted and arranged for the killing of Jesse James, and had been sentenced by the Court, granted them a full pardon. A special messenger was dispatched with it to St. Joseph, and the boys will be released from jail upon his arrival. The Governor says the pardon does not effect any other crimes which the boys may be guilty of, but it is only for the killing of Jesse James.

We take pleasure in informing our readers that by enclosing a three-cent stamp to Foster, Milburn & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., they can secure, free, a set of their fine lithograph picture cards, which are an ornament to any household.

HIGH WATER.

ST. PAUL, April 17.—A St. Vincent special to The Pioneer Press says that the Red river is thirty-eight feet above low water mark, and is still rising. The average rise is two inches per hour. It is within twelve inches of last year's high water mark. The elevator is in danger. There is a great amount of drift ice, and the lower flats are nearly covered. The bridge at Emerson, Manitoba is nearly gone out; two spans have completely gone. Great efforts to save the rest are being made. Much excitement prevails.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

RACINE, Wis., April 18.—This afternoon while Samuel J. Philbrook, one of our oldest citizens, was driving over a crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway two miles west of this city, a passenger train ran into him, killing the horse, wrecking the buggy, and throwing the old gentleman to the road, injuring him so badly that he died this evening.

THE SUNFLOWER APOSTLE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—Oscar Wilde has accepted an invitation to spend a portion of the summer with Henry Ward Beecher at his villa on the Hudson. The remainder of the season will be spent with Julian Hawthorne.

CAPTAIN PUGH.

RACINE, April 18.—The funeral of the late Captain Wm. R. Pugh was held at the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and was attended by probably the largest concourse of people ever gathered in this city to pay the last tribute of respect to a fellow citizen. The procession was formed by the Racine club, followed by the Knights of Pythias, and the Masonic lodge, of all of which he was a member, and hundreds of citizens. Short services were held at the house, where a few remarks were made by Rev. Joseph Roberts, after which the remains were conveyed to the Presbyterian church. That large structure was crowded to its utmost capacity, and hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Rev. Dr. Corwin preached the funeral sermon, which is pronounced to have been an effort worthy of the occasion. After the sermon the coffin was opened and an opportunity given the people to view the remains. A continuous stream of people filed through the church, and so large was the crowd that fully an hour was taken up. It is estimated that fully 2500 persons passed through the church. The ceremonies at the grave were conducted according to the rites of the Free Masons, and were witnessed by an immense number.

ROMANCE OF CRIME.

CLINTON, Ill., April 18.—Lizzie Barton, well-known here as a female horse-thief, who has just been liberated from the penitentiary, is in love with Patsy Devine, who is to be hanged on the 12th prox. It is a very romantic love case.

LIMA.

—George Ottaway spent Saturday and Sunday with Lima friends.

—Prof. Kinney and wife, of Darlington, have been making relatives in Lima and vicinity a visit.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weaver drove up from Milton Sunday to see Mr. Alonzo Tramm, who is ill.

—M. Ensign is making extensive improvements on his house.

—A. C. Hall, who started canvassing last week, was taken sick about two miles northeast of Whitewater, and at last accounts was in quite a critical condition.

—The second entertainment given Saturday evening was well patronized, not only by our own town people, but Milton, Johnston, and Whitewater, were well represented. The play "From Punkin Ridge," was repeated with "A pain in the side."

Messrs. Aldridge and Jones, with the Misses Hall had evidently just arrived from Africa—judging by their color and the manner in which the "Crimed of the Saviour." Each actor did their part to perfection, and everyone declared that it takes the young people of Lima to get up a first class entertainment. The proceeds of the two evenings were about sixty dollars. Many thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles for the help which they gave to make it a success.

Bird Telegraphy.

On a number of occasions, says a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, I have closely observed the woodcock system of telegraphy. The bird's mandibles are furnished with extremely sensitive nerves, so arranged that when the points of the bill rest upon the ground the slightest sounds are conveyed to its brain.

Standing upon the water-saturated earth of a spouty bog, our bird utters a faint, keen cry, scarcely audible at two rods' distance, then immediately falls his head till the tip of his bill touches the ground, and listens attentively. If his mate hears him she replies, puts her bill on the ground, and listens in turn. So the love messages go back and forth as long as the birds have anything to say.

This sort of thing, usually happens in the soft twilights, from May to the middle of August, though occasionally I have seen and heard it in the broad light of a summer day. In June, 1868, I made the following note:

"To-day sketched a woodcock in the listening attitude. Shall try to get further studies."

Five years later I succeeded in getting three more sketches, and in 1880 I got four more. Many of these and kindred sketches have been obtained at the end of indescribable care and labor.

The woodcock is so shy, so attentive, so sensitive, that the least sound will cause it to skulk and hide—a thing it does with even greater cunning and success than the quail. The only way in which I have ever been able to get near enough to the bird to sketch its natural attitudes, has been to crawl on the wet ground, through tangled weeds and shrubs, until I reached a hiding place on the border of its feeding range, and there patiently and silently watch for its coming. This I have done over and over again for days together before getting sight of the bird.

"So women can't practice law in Massachusetts," said Mrs. Goodington, looking up from the paper over her spectacles. "For my part, I don't see what they want to for. As Daniel used to say, poor man, if women would consent to be women and do their own duties, contemptuously, and leave public affairs to the men folks, there would be much less implicity in the marriage revelation than there is now. What a woman wants to be an anatomy-at-law for, disputing with judges, sheriffs, constables, and all sorts of vile characters, is beyond my comprehension." And the old lady stared a stony stare at the newspaper as though it were a would-be lady lawyer, whom she would annihilate with her reproving gaze. But let us not judge Mrs. Goodington too harshly, and let us try and forgive her antiquated prejudices.—Boston Transcript.

The Old Man's Ghost.

Several days ago, a celebrated spiritualist came to Little Rock, and stated that before giving a public entertainment he would give a seance, where any member of a small invited circle could call up the spirits of their friends and converse with them. By mistake a man from down the river was admitted, a man whose reputation for deeds of violence would not place him spirit above par in the soul market. After listening a while to the rattling, horn-blowing, and gauze-vail materialization, the bad man rose and said:

"Say, cap'n, what's the old man's ghost?"

"What old man?" asked the medium.

"My old man—the governor. Call him up."

"What is his name?"

"Tom Bealick; call him up."

"I don't think we are in communication with him to-night."

"What's the matter, wire down?"

"No; the old man has gone away on a visit."

"Now here; just shet up yer wardrobe and turn on yer light. If ye don't give the old man's ghost a show, the thing shan't run."

"Wait; I'll see if he will come," said the spiritualist. "If he raps three times he is willing; if only once he has other engagements."

A sharp rap sounded.

"He is unwilling," continued the spiritualist.

"Now here," said the bad man, "that's my old man's ghost."

had not that table he'd splintered it. Call him up!" and the affectionate son cast a severe glance on the medium.

"To tell the truth, I can't call him."

"Tell him I want to see him. That'll fetch him."

"No, he won't come; but I beg you to be patient. Wait; ah, he will come soon. He is here and desires to talk to you. He says he is perfectly happy, and that he longs for the time when you will be with him. He is one of the rulers in the spirit land."

"Cap'n, you're the infernal liar in Arkansas!"

"Why so, sir?"

"Because the old man is in the city prison, drunk."

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.

The lion's tongue is furnished with reverse prickles so large and strong as to be able to lacerate the skin.

In China there is a fish that crosses the meadows at its pleasure from one creek to another, often a mile apart.

A healthy man of average weight imbibes eighty ounces of water, in liquid state or mixed with solid food, every twenty-four hours.

In the year 1710 the weight of fat cattle in the London market averaged only 370 pounds at the average age of 5 years. In 1795 this was increased to 482 pounds. In 1830 the weight was 650 pounds, nearly double that of 1710. It is probable that the average weight at one year less age (say 4 years old) is at the present moment fully three times that of 1710, and the beef—owing to the superior quality of the cattle and the better methods of fattening—fully 50 per cent, more nourishing and economical to the consumer.

DYNAMITE has been used in agricultural operations. Signor Rossi Fedegotti found that he saved 30 per cent, in money and 50 per cent, in time. One piece of ground required in order to dig to the depth of 1.20 meters the work of eight men for seven days and an expense of 62 1/2 lire. The other piece of equal size was turned up to the same depth by mines three meters apart, containing each seventy grams of dynamite, No. 1. The work required the labor of eight men for only three days and a half, and cost 43 1/2 lire.

It has no doubt been a mystery to many how the iron ball inside of sleigh bells got there, and it is said to have been discovered by M. Manonvriev. The discoverer followed the idea struck him. In making sleigh bells the iron ball is put inside a sand core, just the shape of the outside of the bell. This sand core, with the jinger inside, is placed in the mold of the outside, and the melted metal is poured in, which fills up the space between the core and mold. The hot metal burns the core so that it can be all shaken out, leaving the ball within the shell. Ball valves, swivel joints and many other articles are cast in the same manner.

Some relations between the cranium and the skeleton of human beings have been discovered by M. Manonvriev. The weight of the skull varies in a general way with the weight of the skeleton, but not proportionally as the weight of the brain. The weight of the skeleton without the cranium varies nearly in proportion to the weight of the femur. The weight of the cranium is greater relatively to that of the femur the lighter the latter is. The weight of the cranium is much more considerable to that of the femur in woman than in man—a difference so pronounced that it constitutes one of the best secondary sexual characteristics. About eighty-two women in 100 have the cranium heavier than the two femurs, while eighty-two men in 100 have it lighter. The lower jaw is heavier relatively to the cranium in the anthropoids than in man.

How to Tell Good Eggs.

A good egg will sink in water. A boiled egg which is done will dry quickly on the shell when taken from the kettle.

The boiled eggs which adhere to the shell are fresh laid.

After an egg is laid a day or more, the shell comes off easily when boiled.

A fresh egg has a lime-like surface to its shell.

State eggs are glassy and smooth of shell.

Eggs which have been packed in lime look stained, and show the action of the lime on the surface.

Eggs packed in bran for a long time smell and taste musty.

With the aid of the hands or a piece of paper rolled in funnel-shape and held toward the light, the human eye can look through an egg, shell and all.

If the egg is clear and golden in appearance when held to the light, it is good; if dark or spotted, it is bad.

The badness of an egg can sometimes be told by shaking it near the holder's ear.

As Edinburgh professor has discovered that an animal struck by lightning or by an electric shock, under scientific direction, is rendered delightfully tender in a moment. Read this paragraph out at supper in presence of the assembled boarders. It may startle the landlady, cause her to invest in an electric battery, and change the hard and stony-hearted beefsteak from "a thing of duty and a chaw forever" into a soft and tender-hearted dream of Mary's little lamb.
